VOL. 4. NO. 289 MONESSEN, PA., THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1906. SIX CENTS THE WEEK

STATE TICKET IS NAMED.

Thompson Was Not Chosen, But it is a Strong Team Nevertheless and Cannot be Beaten.

Another political fight is over and Harrisburg is cleared of the clan of office illers who have thronged her lobbies nd streets for days past. The result is Republican state ticket to which the he faithful can rally with confidence nd unbroken assurance of success next November. The ticket named is as follows:

Governor—Edwin S. Stewart, of Philadelphia.

Lieutenant Governor—Robert S. Murphy, of Columbia.

Auditor General—Robert K. Young, f Tioga.

Secretary of Internal Affairs—Henry louck, of Lebanon.

The vote on governor stood:

tewart, 271; Thompson, 53; Wattres, 8; Stone, 32; Murphy, 17 and Brown, 3 tewart lead over Thompson 216 votes.

The ticket is thought to be one of unsual strenght, and made up as to quality f men, it will appeal to and get the full onfidence of the party through the comon wealth.

The platform adopted and the message ent out to the Republicans of the state , in the highest degree, encouraging nd inspiring, and is the real message for hich the whole country has been waitg with eager expectancy, showing that ld Pennsylvania is not afraid to take the nitative, and stand firmly for the polies advocated by President Roosevelt, oking toward the regulation of railroad nd other corporate evils, etc.

It will be plainly seen that the proam is laid down for observance of the rty for execution by the legislature, i definite re-affirmation of the Boosevelt olities and commits the party of this eat commonwrath to the perpetuation the highest ideals ever set before an ambitious and progressive people.

If you buy that handsome 6 room ouse No. 79 Vance Avenue Eldora ddition No. 1. in which the piano, Bed oom suite and Dining room suite are on xhibition and pay 20% on same, you ll be entitled to 15 numbers on the premiums—Wanner Land Co. 89 3t

KIDNAPPED THE CHILD.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Have Trouble Over the Custody of Their Baby Boy.

Considerable excitement was occasioned about 10 o'clock this forenoon on Schoonmaker avenue by the apparent kidnapping of a four-year-old boy by the mother.

The trouble arose in the Dale family who have been reidents of the Schoen hotel building, corner Schoonmaker and Seventh, who originally came to Monessen from Donora where they were once in the grocery business.

Family troubles brought separation of husband and wife and they have been apart several months, the father having custody of the children except the youngest boy.

It seems that Tillie Dale the wife, who is teaching music and lives in the Fritz building corner Donner and First, on Monday dressed the baby boy nicely and brought him up street.

The father saw the lad and getting him from the mother, took him home.

This morning the mother had opportunity and seized the little fellow hurrying him down Schoonmaker ave., procuring the protection of Burgess Shutterly on the way.

She was overtaken by the irrate husband who forcibly tore the child from her arms and bore him back in triumph.

The child resisted the mother's efforts to retain him, and seemed better satisfied with the father. Further interesting developments are anxiously awaited.

Mrs. John Allen of this city, was a Donora visitor yesterday.

Wm. O'Brien, of Penn avenue, Pittsburg, labors under the hallucination that he was recently killed in a railroad accident, and was arrested yesterday, he being found on the streets, asking pedestrians whether they were in heaven or hell, explaining that he was in doubt as to his whereabouts, and wanted to know as to the state of others. Somewhat the same condition as a number of Westmoreland county political aspirants found themselves about Tuesday after the manipulation of the people's vote by the delegates in convention assembled. Another illustration and proof positive that the delegate system becomes more obnoxious and detestable each year, and that the sooner the Republicans in this and all counties and all states, relegates the system to the past, and count the common people's vote as they are cast and advocated by Hon. E. F. Acheson of Washington county, and many other sensible thinkers, the better it will be, both for people and politicians.

THERE seems to be strong sentiment throughout the country for having the date of Memorial Day changed from May 30 to the last Sunday of May. Objection is being made to the day being turned from its real purpose into a general holiday, as it now is, the consequence being that the real spirit and interest is lost. It is believed that the Grand Army of the Republic will push the project so that the day may be confined to the revered decoration of the graves of the soldier dead, with memorial services in the churches. The day is a very dear one to these old veterans of the Civil war who are still with, us and the manner in which it is celebrated now-a-days seems like desecration.

A Chicago man, after 31 years silence, has just recovered his power of speech. Evidently he read the beef trust report and it made him so mad that he had to say something.

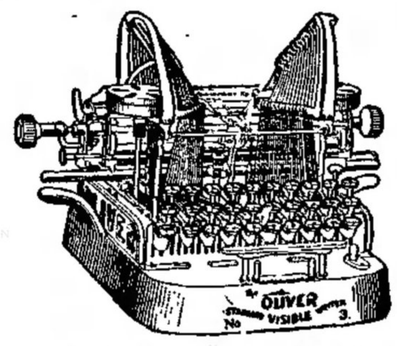
THIS TYPEWRITER

DELIVERS THE GOODS

It's the Oliver—the Standard Visible Writer.

The Oliver Typewriter is just like an athletic stripped for a race



It is free from unnecessary multiplicity of wires and springs

No net work of flimsy keys to get tied into hard knots

The nimble fingered stenographer can put talk into type with this machine just as rapidly as she takes your dictation.

For no matter how swiftly she writes, she can see just what she's doing.

The keyboard is so wonderfully responsive to the touch of the finger tips that speed comes without effort.

The factors that make for speed are its visible writing, its light, elastic key-touch, and it's all 'round simplicity. It has the fewest possible wearing points, and it prints with a downward stroke.

The OLIVER Typewriter

is a flawless piece of mechanism, combining the strength of tested steel with the perfect adjustment of the works of a watch. You can use an Oliver a life time and the type will not lose alignment.

It never suffers from nervous prostration; requires only a little oil and plenty of exercise to keep it at the highest point of efficiency.

The hum of Oliver Typewriters is heard in the most progressive business houses in the land. Sales increasing at a phenomenal rate. Get acquainted with the Oliver! Write for the Oliver book—we send it free with our compliments.

Even when one's affianced has the reputation of being, besides fairly rich and more than passably handsome, the most whimsically irresponsible practical joker in New York one has a right to expect that joking on one's birthday, of all days, will be shelved. At least Carrol Merrifield so expected, but she was disappointed, and that started the trouble.

Hunter Johnston was in love with Carrol, thoroughly so, but the practical joking instinct is like conscience and a taste for olives—hard to forget when once acquired. A brilliant idea in the jesting line came to Johnston the morning of his sweetheart's birthday, and he immediately set about giving it to that portion of the world in which he was most interested.

Carrol's birthday gifts from her particular circle were all that heart could desire, and she waited with happy anticipation for her fiance's offering.

At 1 o'clock a messenger boy appeared with a long, slender package for

"MAY I ASK WHAT THIS MEANS, CARROL?" HE ASKED QUIETLY.

Miss Merrifield. She opened it with eagerness and found a single magnificent American Beauty wrapped carefully in waxed paper and sparkling as if with the dew of June. Within five minutes another messenger with another long, slender package rang the bell, and this also yielded up a rose. When with the regularity of clockwork five uniformed imps had come and gone in twenty-five minutes, all with similar votive offerings, the girl comprehended—Johnston of the fertile mind had hit upon the plan of sending her twenty-three roses, one for each year of her life, but the gift was to be delivered on the installment plan.

The ingenious idea was pleasing—for a time. With the tenth rose the Merrifield family was holding joyous council over the ever increasing pile of boxes in the library, and Carrol was restless. When the fifteenth bona fide messenger had come and gone, not counting four small curiosity seekers, who smiled expansively, murmured something about "de wrong number" and retreated, Carrol was thoroughly angry. When on the heels of the twenty-third accredited flower bearer Johnston appeared, a particularly desirable brooch in his pocket and a sense of duty well done in his heart, she was composed, but the anger, though not visible, was present and controlled.

With true masculine density Johnston noticed nothing out of the ordinary with his sweetheart. She thanked him gayly and with the proper degree of warmth for brooch and roses.

"Mr. Practical Joker must have a lesson," Miss Merrifield declared to herself after his departure as she rubbled with lips as red as the petals themselves at the eighteenth rose. "I didn't mind so much his other tricks, but this time he has gone too far."

"He'd only laugh if he knew old Mrs. Froude sat in her window and counted those messengers. With the extra ones mixed in—little wretches!—there were thirty-one of them.

"She knows today's my birthday and saw through Hunter's scheme as quickly as I did. And she'll never believe but what I'm thirty-one. So, Mr. Hunter Johnston, beware of an old maid's vengeance." And she waved the rose theatrically in air.

On the morning of his own birthday, five days later, when his man brought up the mail Johnston's eye was immediately taken by one long white envelope. It was certainly peculiar in appearance, for his name and address were formed of letters clipped from newspapers and posted upon it. The envelope contained the following missive, similarly constructed:

Do you care to see your sweetheart eloping with another man? Be at the Twenty-third street ferry Thursday afternoon at 4.

Like many other practical jokers, Johnston had his "blind" side. He never suspected that any one would attempt to hoax him. He took the missive in deadly earnest and interrupted dressing a half dozen times to reread it.

His first sensation was one of anger that any one would dare libel his sweetheart so. He resolved to telephone Carrol immediately—or, better, to call upon her and enjoy a good laugh with her over the letter. Yet even while he smiled at its very absurdity, a sickening qualm of doubt, slow flitting and ugly as a vulture's shadow, passed over his mind. Supposing it were true?

That was the most unpleasant day Johnston ever experienced. Breakfast was a farce; luncheon, "no performance." Long after the time for the latter meal he remembered that he had promised to spend the day with a married sister over in Jersey.

He tramped the snowy streets aimlessly, pausing occasionally to pore over the mysterious message, while policemen stared curiously and housemolders thought of Raffles. All his journeys brought him back somehow to the neighborhood of Carrol's home. But he could not enter. Something held him back. At 3 o'clock he was at the ferry and sat himself down with such patience as he could muster to wait for 4 o'clock. "I'll see it through," he said.

At ten minutes of the hour Johnston's heart gave a painful throb, for Carrol, rosy from the searching wind, entered the ferry building. A tall, athletic young man, with the air of the outlander about him—he was well dressed and evidently well bred, but not a New Yorker—followed her in. He was carrying two heavy suit cases.

Johnston confronted them. "May I ask what this means, Carrol?" he asked quietly.

The girl halted and seemed to shrink from him. The athletic stranger stepped forward. "And may I inquire how it concerns you?" He did not raise his voice, and the attention of none of the jostling scores was attracted to the group.

Johnston ignored him. "Did I deserve this, Carrol?" he went on. "If you'd ask, I'd release you. When I got this letter"—

The girl had determined to punish him thoroughly, but at the sight of his weary, troubled face she relented.

"Do you know," she interrupted blithely, "I'm proud of that letter? I avoided telling a lie in it, even a white one, although I came pretty close to fibbing, didn't I? But I blistered my hand cutting out those letters. Wasn't it a real sweet little birthday gift?"

Doubt and dawning comprehension struggled in Johnston's eyes. "But, why—why"— he began.

"Why—why!" mocked his sweetheart, her head tilted saucily, a roguish smile on her face. "Just to show that two can play at practical joking as well as one. Thirty-one messenger boys, sir! You should have a whole month of anonymous letters."

"But this gentleman!" He waved his hand toward the athletic stranger who appeared to be enjoying the conversation overmuch.

"My cousin, Phil Hudson of Omaha, Mr. Johnston. He came last night, but could only stay with us a few hours."

"You were the victim of a base conspiracy, Mr. Johnston," laughed Hudson as they shook hands. "I beg pardon."

"Oh, nothing of consequence!" responded Johnston. "I just said 'Stung!'"

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently"— Hon. John R. Garrett Mayor, Girard Ala.

RENT PAYS FOR LAND.

Fertile Sections of the Southwest, Where Land Sells for $15 and Rents for $2 per Acre.

One of the remarkable things about Eastern Arkansas and Northern Louisiana is the fact that cleared land rents for $5 per acre cash, and can be bought for $7.50 to $15 per acre. It costs from $6 to $10 an acre to clear it. Other improvements necessary are slight and inexpensive.

The soil is rich alluvial, or made. It produces a bale of cotton per acre, worth $45 to $60. This accounts for its high rental value. Other crops, such as corn, small grains, grasses, vegetables and fruits, thrive as well.

Alfalfa yields 4 to 6 cuttings, a ton to a cutting, and brings $10 to $16 per ton.

In other sections of these states, and in Texas as well, the rolling or hill-land is especially adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Land is very cheap, $5 to $10 per acre; improved farms $10, $15 to $25 per acre.

The new White River country offers many opportunities for settlers. High, rolling, fine water—it is naturally adapted to stock and fruit raising. Can be bought as low as $3 per acre.

See this great country for yourself and pick out a location. Descriptive literature, with maps, free on request.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

There is no need worring along in discomfort because of a disordered digestion. Get a bottle of KODAL FOR DYSPEPSIA, and see what it will do for you. Kodal not only digests what you eat and gives that tired stomach a needed rest, but it is a corrective of the greatest efficiency. Kodol relieves indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, flatulence and sour stomach. Kodol will make your stomach young and healthy again. You will worry just in proportion that your stomach worries you. Worry means the loss of ability to do your best. Worry is to be avoided at all times. Kodol will take the worry out your stomach. Sold by R. W. Beck.

The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine trees of our own native forests. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the best remedy for colds because it acts on the bowels thus expelling all colds from the system. Bee's is the origanal Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial effections. Sold by C. A. Light.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach once overworked, must rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work of your stomach, digests what you eat and gives you rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with a disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by R. W. Beck.

A liquid cold cure for children that is pleasant, harmless and effective is Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. Superior to all other cough syrups or cold remedies because it acts on the bowels. An ideal remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and all curable lung and bronchial effections in child or adult. Pleasant to take. Sold by C. A. Light.

Thousands annually bear witness to the efficiency of Early Risers. These pleasant, reliable little pills have long bore the reputation second to none as a laxative and cathartic. They are as staple as bread in millions of homes. Pleasant but effective. Will promptly relieve constipation without gripping. Sold by R. W. Beck.

The gums and resins obtained from pine trees have long been recognized as highly beneficial in the treatment of backache, kidney and bladder troubles. Pine-ules is the name of a new medicine, the principle ingredients of which come from the pine forests of our own native land. Sold by C. A. Light.

The sincerest tribute that can be paid to superiority is imitation. The many imitations of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve that are now before the public prove it the best. Ask for DeWitt's. Good for burns, scalds, chafed skin eczema, tetter, cuts, bruises, boils and piles. Highly recommended and reliable. Sold by R. W. Beck.

A hacking cough is most annoying. One Minute Cough Cure draws the inflamation out of the throat, chest and lungs. Sold by R. W. Beck.

It is not difficult to relieve blind bleeding, itching or protruding piles with ManZan, the great pile remedy. It is put up in collapsable tubes with nozzle, and may be introduced and applied at the seat of the trouble. Stops pain instantly. Sold by C. A. Light.

WM. O'BRIEN, of Penn avenue, Pittsburg, labors under the hallucination that he was recently killed in a railroad accident, and was arrested yesterday, he being found on the streets, asking pedestrians whether they were in heaven or hell, explaining that he was in doubt as to his whereabouts, and wanted to know as to the state of others. Somewhat the same condition as a number of Westmoreland county political aspirants found themselves about Tuesday after the manipulation of the people's vote by the delegates in convention assembled. Another illustration and proof positive that the delegate system becomes more obnoxious and detestable each year, and that the sooner the Republicans in this and all counties and all states, relegates the system to the past, and count the common people's vote as they are cast and advocated by Hon. E. F. Acheson of Washington county, and many other sensible thinkers, the better it will be, both for people and politicians.

THERE seems to be strong sentiment throughout the country for having the date of Memorial Day changed from May 30 to the last Sunday of May. Objection is being made to the day being turned from its real purpose into a general holiday, as it now is, the consequence being that the real spirit and interest is lost. It is believed that the Grand Army of the Republic will push the project so that the day may be confined to the revered decoration of the graves of the soldier dead, with memorial services in the churches. The day is a very dear one to these old veterans of the Civil war who are still with, us and the manner in which it is celebrated now-a-days seems like desecration.

A Chicago man, after 31 years silence, has just recovered his power of speech. Evidently he read the beef trust report and it made him so mad that he had to say something.

Pirating Foley's Honey and Tar

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr. Alvin H. Stimpson, of Willimantic, Conn., who, after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all the suffering incident to acute Kidney trouble. Sold by The Avenue Drug Store.

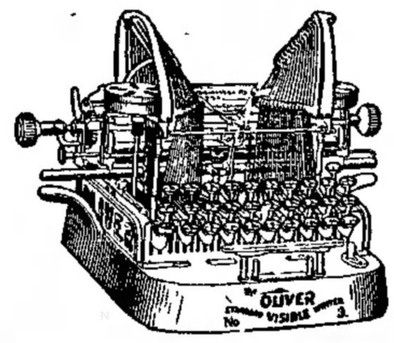
THIS TYPEWRITER

DELIVERS THE GOODS

It's the Oliver—the Standard Visible Writer.

The Oliver Typewriter is just like an athletic stripped for a race



It is free from unnecessary multiplicity of wires and springs

No net work of flimsy keys to get tied into hard knots

The nimble fingered stenographer can put talk into type with this machine just as rapidly as she takes your dictation.

For no matter how swiftly she writes, she can see just what she's doing.

The keyboard is so wonderfully responsive to the touch of the finger tips that speed comes without effort.

The factors that make for speed are its visible writing, its light, elastic key-touch, and it's all 'round simplicity. It has the fewest possible wearing points, and it prints with a downward stroke.

The OLIVER Typewriter

is a flawless piece of mechanism, combining the strength of tested steel with the perfect adjustment of the works of a watch. You can use an Oliver a life time and the type will not lose alignment.

It never suffers from nervous prostration; requires only a little oil and plenty of exercise to keep it at the highest point of efficiency.

The hum of Oliver Typewriters is heard in the most progressive business houses in the land. Sales increasing at a phenomenal rate. Get acquainted with the Oliver! Write for the Oliver book—we send it free with our compliments.

Even when one's affianced has the reputation of being, besides fairly rich and more than passably handsome, the most whimsically irresponsible practical joker in New York one has a right to expect that joking on one's birthday, of all days, will be shelved. At least Carrol Merrifield so expected, but she was disappointed, and that started the trouble.

Hunter Johnston was in love with Carrol, thoroughly so, but the practical joking instinct is like conscience and a taste for olives—hard to forget when once acquired. A brilliant idea in the jesting line came to Johnston the morning of his sweetheart's birthday, and he immediately set about giving it to that portion of the world in which he was most interested.

Carrol's birthday gifts from her particular circle were all that heart could desire, and she waited with happy anticipation for her fiance's offering.

At 1 o'clock a messenger boy appeared with a long, slender package for

"MAY I ASK WHAT THIS MEANS, CARROL?" HE ASKED QUIETLY.

Miss Merrifield. She opened it with eagerness and found a single magnificent American Beauty wrapped carefully in waxed paper and sparkling as if with the dew of June. Within five minutes another messenger with another long, slender package rang the bell, and this also yielded up a rose. When with the regularity of clockwork five uniformed imps had come and gone in twenty-five minutes, all with similar votive offerings, the girl comprehended—Johnston of the fertile mind had hit upon the plan of sending her twenty-three roses, one for each year of her life, but the gift was to be delivered on the installment plan.

The ingenious idea was pleasing—for a time. With the tenth rose the Merrifield family was holding joyous council over the ever increasing pile of boxes in the library, and Carrol was restless. When the fifteenth bona fide messenger had come and gone, not counting four small curiosity seekers, who smiled expansively, murmured something about "de wrong number" and retreated, Carrol was thoroughly angry. When on the heels of the twenty-third accredited flower bearer Johnston appeared, a particularly desirable brooch in his pocket and a sense of duty well done in his heart, she was composed, but the anger, though not visible, was present and controlled.

With true masculine density Johnston noticed nothing out of the ordinary with his sweetheart. She thanked him gayly and with the proper degree of warmth for brooch and roses.

"Mr. Practical Joker must have a lesson," Miss Merrifield declared to herself after his departure as she nibbled with lips as red as the petals themselves at the eighteenth rose. "I didn't mind so much his other tricks, but this time he has gone too far."

"He'd only laugh if he knew old Mrs. Froude sat in her window and counted those messengers. With the extra ones mixed in—little wretches!—there were thirty-one of them.

"She knows today's my birthday and saw through Hunter's scheme as quickly as I did. And she'll never believe but what I'm thirty-one. So, Mr. Hunter Johnston, beware of an old maid's vengeance." And she waved the rose theatrically in air.

On the morning of his own birthday, five days later, when his man brought up the mail Johnston's eye was immediately taken by one long white envelope. It was certainly peculiar in appearance, for his name and address were formed of letters clipped from newspapers and posted upon it. The envelope contained the following missive, similarly constructed:

Do you care to see your sweetheart eloping with another man? Be at the Twenty-third street ferry Thursday afternoon at 4.

Like many other practical jokers, Johnston had his "blind" side. He never suspected that any one would attempt to hoax him. He took the missive in deadly earnest and interrupted dressing a half dozen times to reread it.

His first sensation was one of anger that any one would dare libel his sweetheart so. He resolved to telephone Carrol immediately—or, better, to call upon her and enjoy a good laugh with her over the letter. Yet even while he smiled at its very absurdity, a sickening qualm of doubt, slow flitting and ugly as a vulture's shadow, passed over his mind. Supposing it were true?

That was the most unpleasant day Johnston ever experienced. Breakfast was a farce; luncheon, "no performance." Long after the time for the latter meal he remembered that he had promised to spend the day with a married sister over in Jersey.

He tramped the snowy streets aimlessly, pausing occasionally to pore over the mysterious message, while policemen stared curiously and householders thought of Raffles. All his journeys brought him back somehow to the neighborhood of Carrol's home. But he could not enter. Something held him back. At 3 o'clock he was at the ferry and sat himself down with such patience as he could muster to wait for 4 o'clock. "I'll see it through," he said.

At ten minutes of the hour Johnston's heart gave a painful throb, for Carrol, rosy from the searching wind, entered the ferry building. A tall, athletic young man, with the air of the outlander about him—he was well dressed and evidently well bred, but not a New Yorker—followed her in. He was carrying two heavy suit cases.

Johnston confronted them. "May I ask what this means, Carrol?" he asked quietly.

The girl halted and seemed to shrink from him. The athletic stranger stepped forward. "And may I inquire how it concerns you?" He did not raise his voice, and the attention of none of the jostling scores was attracted to the group.

Johnston ignored him. "Did I deserve this, Carrol?" he went on. "If you'd ask, I'd release you. When I got this letter"—

The girl had determined to punish him thoroughly, but at the sight of his weary, troubled face she relented.

"Do you know," she interrupted blithely, "I'm proud of that letter? I avoided telling a lie in it, even a white one, although I came pretty close to fibbing, didn't I? But I blistered my hand cutting out those letters. Wasn't it a real sweet little birthday gift?"

Doubt and dawning comprehension struggled in Johnston's eyes. "But, why—why"— he began.

"Why—why!" mocked his sweetheart, her head tilted saucily, a roguish smile on her face. "Just to show that two can play at practical joking as well as one. Thirty-one messenger boys, sir! You should have a whole month of anonymous letters."

"But this gentleman!" He waved his hand toward the athletic stranger who appeared to be enjoying the conversation overmuch.

"My cousin, Phil Hudson of Omaha, Mr. Johnston. He came last night, but could only stay with us a few hours."

"You were the victim of a base conspiracy, Mr. Johnston," laughed Hudson as they shook hands. "I beg pardon."

"Oh, nothing of consequence!" responded Johnston. "I just said 'Stung!'"

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently"—Hon. John R. Garrett Mayor, Girard Ala.

RENT PAYS FOR LAND.

Fertile Sections of the Southwest, Where Land Sells for $15 and Rents for $2 per Acre.

One of the remarkable things about Eastern Arkansas and Northern Louisiana is the fact that cleared land rents for $5 per acre cash, and can be bought for $7.50 to $15 per acre. It costs from $6 to $10 an acre to clear it. Other improvements necessary are slight and inexpensive.

The soil is rich alluvial, or made. It produces a bale of cotton per acre, worth $45 to $60. This accounts for its high rental value. Other crops, such as corn, small grains, grasses, vegetables and fruits, thrive as well.

Alfalfa yields 4 to 6 cuttings, a ton to a cutting, and brings $10 to $16 per ton.

In other sections of these states, and in Texas as well, the rolling or hill-land is especially adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Land is very cheap, $5 to $10 per acre; improved farms $10, $15 to $25 per acre.

The new White River country offers many opportunities for settlers. High, rolling, fine water—it is naturally adapted to stock and fruit raising. Can be bought as low as $3 per acre.

See this great country for yourself and pick out a location. Descriptive literature, with maps, free on request.

The Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain System Lines sell reduced rate round trip tickets on first and third Tuesdays of each month to points in the West and Southwest, good returning 21 days, with stop-overs. For descriptive literature, maps, time tables, etc., write to

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

There is no need worring along in discomfort because of a disordered digestion. Get a bottle of KODAL FOR DYSPEPSIA, and see what it will do for you. Kodal not only digests what you eat and gives that tired stomach a needed rest, but it is a corrective of the greatest efficiency. Kodol relieves indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, flatulence and sour stomach. Kodol will make your stomach young and healthy again. The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine trees of our own native forests. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the best remedy for colds because it acts on the bowels thus expelling all colds from the system. Bee's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial effections. Sold by C. A. Light.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach once overworked, must rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work of your stomach, digests what you eat and gives you rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with a disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by R. W. Beck.

A liquid cold cure for children that is pleasant, harmless and effective is Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. Superior to all other cough syrups or cold remedies because it acts on the bowels. An ideal remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and all curable lung and bronchial effections in child or adult. Pleasant to take. Sold by C. A. Light.

Thousands annually bear witness to the efficiency of Early Risers. These pleasant, reliable little pills have long bore the reputation second to none as a laxative and cathartic. POLICEMEN'S UNIFORMS

Arrived Tuesday and the "Coppers" Put Them on Yesterday For the First.

Monessen policemen are now proudly patroling their beats in bran new uniforms, just out of the tailors' shop.

The new outfits, which were purchased from M. C. Lillie & Co., of Columbus, Ohio, arrived Tuesday, and the guardians of peace and quietude donned their new and lighter regalia yesterday.

The new suits are made of the regulation blue cloth, with grey helmets which, we must say, add greatly to the dignity and good looks of our worthy minions of the law.

TO BE SOLD FOR TAXES.

A number of Monessen properties are advertised to be sold for dilinquent taxes by County Treasure Bovard, but of the list a number have been redeemed by the owners and the titles made good.

In the original list of ten columns or more advertised there were over 11,700 properties, consisting of vacant lots, houses and lots, farms, coal lands, churches, business plants, etc., on which the unpaid taxes range individually from $1.30 to $382. The properties will be sold to the highest bidder, but the bid must be for the full amount of taxes and costs.

Met Death in a Tunnel.

James McMinny, of Courtney, was instantly killed at Simpson tunnel, near Brownsville. Wishing to go to California, the man boarded the wrong car, and while walking back to town through the tunnel, he was run down by a freight. Deceased was 26 years of age, and the funeral occurred this afternoon at two 2 o'clock.

FORMER POLICEMAN ARRESTED.

Was Given Hearing This Morning on Charge of False Pretense.

Emanuel Antonezzi a former policeman of this city was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Jas. A. Watkins this morning on a charge of false pretence preferred by Max Mansbach one of our prominent clothing merchants.

He had it seems purchased a suit of Mansbach about two years ago, stating at the time that he would draw his pay at one of the local mills the next day and pay for his purchase.

He left town and did not return; it was later learned that he had drawn his pay before leaving. Yesterday he came to Monessen to act as witness in a local lawsuit and Mr. Mansbach swore out a warrant for his arrest. He eluded the officer however until this morning when he was placed under arrest by Constable Woolsey.

He agreed to settle the claim which amounted to $12 and upon payment of costs was released.

Musician Was Drowned.

Theodore Jones, colored, was drowned at Monongahela Monday evening, and the body was recovered at 4 p. m. Tuesday by Capt. Dias and Dave Province. Deceased was a member of the Lavelle Carnival company exhibiting at that place, and the company bought a burial lot in the cemetery, bore all expenses. The band, of which Jones was a member played a dirge, the young man having lost his life directly after taking part in a street concert.

Pushing Street Car Line.

Engineer C. N. Bennett, in charge of the street car line from Black Diamond to Donora, says preliminary work is being rapidly completed, and that the company hopes to begin actual work of construction at an early date. The ties will come in this month while the rails will be delivered in June. Some rights of of way are still tied up, but the company expects to overcome this difficulty. The road should be in operation by next fall.

TO OPPOSE MR. HUFF.

Prominent Democrat is Talked of as a Man to Make the Congressional Fight.

The announcement is made that Thomas Lynch, president of the H. C. Frick Coke company, will in all probability be the Democratic candidate for congress in the Westmoreland and Butler district in opposition to Congressman George F. Huff.

The pressure brought upon Mr. Lynch for the past few days has been very strong, and while he has not yet consented to be a candidate, it is almost certain that he will do so within a few days. He is one of the most prominent Democrats in Western Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir: Would you like to hear of a 20-year paint?

Mr. James A. O'Neil's house, Henderson, N C, was painted 20 years ago with Devoe lead and zinc, and never painted again till last year; it then looked better than common paint in half that time.

The reason is: Devoe is all paint and true paint; while the common paints are part true and part false. Don't pay to monkey with paint.

And Devoe costs less than any of 'em; not by the gallon, of course; by the house and year. That's how to reckon it Go by the name.

Yours truly
